

Military Personnel

Military issues should be pursued first through the service member's chain of command. In the event the chain of command cannot resolve the issue or should the case not be adjudicated in a timely manner, a caseworker from our office is happy to pursue a resolution on your behalf.

- I can assist military service members in receiving copies of service records (including medical records) from the National Personnel Records Center and the different Branches of the Military.

- Assistance is also provided in obtaining medals awarded during military service.

- Issues regarding duty assignments, pay issues, and dependent services can be addressed by my office on behalf of constituents of the 10th Congressional District.

- If you need assistance with any of the previous issues, please complete the Military Help Form and return it to my district office.
